SEA EAGLES FACE THREAT IN ELIMINATION FINAL DRAW

Tathra stalwarts Luke Taylor and Troy O'Loughlin could be key this weekend if the Tathra Sea Eagles are to advance in the Sapphire Coast AFL finals series.

Both Taylor and O'Loughlin are some of the most capped players in the current senior Eagles outfit and have plenty of finals experience with about 10 premierships flags between them.

O'Loughlin has been consistently a key performer out of the middle for the Sea Eagles throughout this season, but Taylor has been injecting himself more and more into play and is coming off the back of being named the club's best and fairest.

It's a well-earned title for the versatile player, who has both coached and captained the club to multiple flags in the past decade.

It's going to be no small task for the Sea Eagles, who have had a rough season after a strong start with their last outing at Pambula favouring the hosts.

This Saturday's clash will be a rematch so it boils down to a case of will the club switch things up once more in the hopes of getting everything to click or can the club 'empty the tank' as it were and leaving nothing left on the table to try and punch over the line.

It's a do-or-die scenario with the winner going on to likely face the Merimbula Diggers in the preliminary final, while the loser will be handed a one-way ticket home.

And it's not just the seniors with something on the line this weekend as the dominant women's and reserve grade outfits have both also slipped to third on the leaderboard and face possible elimination.

The women's roster were pretty tight-lipped about their plans ahead of Saturday when they would face the Narooma Lions outfit at the Pambula Sporting Complex.

"We are confident with our playing style and look forward to a good contest," Cymmon Parker said ahead of the weekend.

The Eaglettes are coming off the back of two losses including a last-round loss to the Pambula Panthers, but that was by just two points.

The Sea Eagles reserves also took a late season tumble down the table after sharing the lead with Merimbula have slipped to third behind the Panthers.

The reserves will also face the Lions and are hoping to bounce back to their early-season form.

It will be the first time the two clubs have met since round 12, when Tathra claimed a 30-point victory.

Saturday's opening final round will be an elimination contest at the Pambula Sporting Complex.

Senior play will go ahead with the reserve grade from 11.50am.

Everyone is encouraged to head along.

EVANS NAMED SESA AUSSIE RULES PLAYER OF THE YEAR

Tarni Evans has a bright future in the rapidly growing women's AFL.

The Bega teen was named the South East Sporting Academy's Player of the Year and Players' player from the under 16s women's squad that trained in Queanbeyan.

Assistant coach and manager of the squad Steve Miller said Tarni had exceptional on-field skills, but also an excellent off-field demeanor and approach to the game, which was promising for her future.

"In terms of raw physical skills, her kicking ability is elite, she's got an excellent vertical leap and is hard and aggressive at the ball," Mr Miller said.

"But she also has a fantastic manner, her coach-ability, the way she goes about play and her football sense."

Tarni said she was one of four girls travelling from the Far South Coast to take part in the 20-week program and was stunned to accept the accolades.

"I was surprised, but stoked to get Player of the Year and Players' player," she said. "It was such a fun and helpful opportunity that I learnt so much from."

"The SESA academy was so good, we had the opportunity for a camp at Jindabyne, and a competition at Newcastle as well as access to the AIS gym and training."

Mr Miller said Tarni had been a "significant contributor" to the SESA outfit's undefeated run to be named state champions and one of the seven players from the squad named to take on Victoria in a national rep clash.

"It was the first time in history there had been a national match in that 16s age group. Tarni was key at centre half-forward and also defensively," Mr Miller said.

Thanks to an anti-congestion rule, players were required to compete in each zone and Tarni's immense kicking reach proved pivotal both up front and from the centre half-back role, where she provided counter-attack and long range punch to the NSW roster.

Tarni said each of the players had been given an individual kicking analysis and plans to improve their game.

Mr Miller said the Bega teen had been incredibly responsive to the program and showed good growth. "The good thing about the AFL is we now have a final destination with the AFLW," Mr Miller said.

He said Tarni's consistent work ethic and stunning ability demonstrated "she is definitely on a pathway for greater things".

Tarni will be eligible for the Youth Girls Nationals next year and the AFLW combine draft in 2020. "Should she continue her form and development - there's no reason she shouldn't position herself for that draft combine."

Nominations have opened for the coming round of the SESA program, with trials to be held on September 12.

Semi Final Preview

Seniors

Pambula v Tathra

A big game for both clubs this weekend as Pambula host Tathra in the minor semi final at Pambula Sports Complex. Last year saw Pambula and Tathra meet in the Preliminary final where the Panthers got the chocolates and based off recent form Pambula will be favourites to end Tathra's season yet again in 2018. Pambula were too strong for Tathra last weekend in the final home and away round and will look to use home ground advantage to full effect. Mitch Wallis was good in the middle for the Panthers in last weekend's match and whichever side can get the upper hand in the middle this weekend will be in a good position to progress. Dean Gartside was back for the Sea Eagles last weekend and will be looking to have a bigger impact on the match this weekend. Both sides come into the match with some injury clouds over the side with Charlie Shepherd for Pambula questionable whilst it looks like Josh Wilkinson will not return from a leg injury in 2018. Player to Watch: Sean Smith, The Pambula veteran had a day out last weekend in his milestone match kicking 5 goals and will be hard to contain again this weekend.

Tathra will need to shut down Smith to give themselves a chance. Prediction: Pambula by 28 Points.

Reserves

Tathra v Narooma

After running in the top two for the majority of the season the Tathra Sea Eagles dropped to third place on the final weekend of the season. The Sea Eagles are in a little bit of slump in recent weeks whilst the Narooma Lions are coming off a win against ladder leaders Merimbula. Although the Lions toppled the ladder leaders last weekend, they have been incredibly inconsistent this season and this game could come down to the in's and out's for both clubs. Look for a tight game. Player to Watch: Adam Blacka, the leading goalkicker in the grade, Blacka will be important for the team. Prediction: Tathra by 16 Points.

Women's

Tathra v Narooma

Like in the reserve grade, the Tathra Sea Eagles held down a top two position for 15 of 16 rounds before being overrun by Pambula in the final game of the season. This is the first time in the competitions history that Tathra have not finished in the top two and the Sea Eagles will not need to win 3 straight games to claim their maiden premiership. The Lions come into this weekend confident that they will be able to cause an upset having beaten both Tathra and ladder leaders Eden in 2018. Both teams have plenty of A-grade players with the like of Talia Moreton-Stewart, Meaghan Mackie and Zalie Betts for the Lions whilst Tathra boast the likes of Elousie Sherwin-Russell, Cymmon Parker and Tyra-Lee Palmer.

Semi Final Preview

Under 16s

Tathra v Merimbula

The under 16's competition has been the most unpredictable competition to date in 2018 with plenty of upsets and close games across the season. This weekend's game is going to be no different between Tathra and Merimbula. Both teams will be confident of progressing to the preliminary final in two weeks with the two teams evenly matched. The Sea Eagles had a shock loss last weekend against Pambula whilst Merimbula were too strong for ladder leaders Narooma. The Diggers will be hopeful of having Caleb Higgins in the lineup this weekend after suffering an injury in last weekend's senior game. If Higgins is unavailable this weekend, the like of Jedd Martyn, Charlie Buckingham and Matthew Leonard will be key players to watch for the Diggers. On the other side, this will be Tathra's first appearance in finals within the under 16's for a number of seasons and it will be interesting to see how the side handles the pressure. Doug Stubbs will be important for the team with having had plenty of finals experience with the Diggers in recent seasons whilst Zac Harlow has been the Sea Eagles standout player in 2018.

Player to Watch: Matthew Leonard, it looked as though Leonard's season was over a couple of weeks ago after taking a heavy fall in a marking contest against Tathra. Leonard has plenty of athletic and footballing ability and will want to have a good game this weekend. Prediction: Merimbula by 10 Points.

Under 14s

Broulee Moruya v Merimbula

It is going to be a good matchup in the under 14's age group this weekend as Broulee Moruya take on Merimbula. In games played between these two sides in 2018, they have battled out some close matches. The last time these two met was in round 7 and a lot will have changed since then. The Giants have improved game on game in 2018 and have played some good competitive football against the top of the table Bermagui side in recent weeks. Broulee Moruya will be looking to get their midfielders involved in the game early with the likes of Sebastian Giri and Tasman Simons to see plenty of the ball this weekend. Brock DeWinter has grown into the season and has been one of the competitions key forwards in recent weeks and Merimbula will need to keep close watch on his movements this weekend. Merimbula are yet to hit top gear in 2018 although they are more than capable of playing football to challenge the top 3 sides in 2018. The likes of Noah Overend, Damon Kerr and Billy Spackman will be key in Merimbula's season finishing early or going forward in two weeks. Player to Watch: Charlie Jones, The Giants key position player has had a solid season playing good football and making the Stingrays side. Will be keen to have a big finals series for the club. Prediction: Broulee Moruya by 8 Points.

Under 12s

Bermagui v Pambula

The first game of the day on Saturday is going to be one of the most interesting games of the day with Bermagui and Pambula going head to head in the under 12's grade. After slow starts in their previous two games Bermagui will be looking to get off to a good start against Pambula. In recent weeks, Pambula have shown that they are going to be a headache for opposition having beaten Merimbula and Tathra and challenging Narooma for four quarters to close out the season. Bermagui can guarantee solid contributions from the like of Lachlan Moresi, Anthony Gannon and Tyge Matters this weekend and if they are to make it 3 premierships on the trot other names will need to stand up in the coming weeks. Pambula have been steady improvers throughout the year and with the likes of Nate Woods, Anthony Seach and Flynn and Archer Whitby, the side will be confident this weekend. Player to Watch: Clancy Ballard, The Bermagui forward was huge for the Breakers in last years finals. Prediction: Pambula by 4 Points.
